Ashfall info ready for your information F.Y.I.

If you live or work in Washington, Oregon or Idaho You'll be getting a helpful piece of information in the mail soon. It's a brochure that tells what to do before, during and after a volcanic ashfall, and it will be distributed to over four million postal patrons.

The information pamphlet, "How to Prepare For and What to Do During a Volcanic Ashfall," lists tips for residents, parents and drivers. It was prepared by the Federal Emergency Management Agency regional office in Bothell, Washington with the assistance of the Washington State Department of Emergency Services in Olympia, Washington.

One piece of advice points out that homeowners should have on hand a battery-operated radio, with extra batteries, because ashfall may interrupt telephone, TV reception and electricity.

The pamphlet describes the physical appearance of volcanic ash and points out that it really isn't ash at all, but pulverized rock; a one-inch layer of dry ash weighs ten pounds per square foot as it lands.

In the section, "What to Do During an Ashfall," appears a list of the types of face masks recommended for children. Other sections contain helpful information about ashfall and household pets and other animals.

The brochure also offers recommendations on driving during and after ashfalls.

Deliveries of the ashfall brochure to Washington, Oregon and Idaho postal patrons should be completed within the next two weeks.

Recession Summer: How to do more with less

Part 1 by Ophelia Taylor

The conscientious consumer has several ways of not only surviving, but enjoying this recession summer. Keep reading and you will discover one writer's views on living through these meager times in our town.

As consumers we must plan our futures with the optimistic assumptions that "we are going to make it," even as the cost of survival skyrockets. Each time the postman stuffs mail in our box, it's a bill, with ever increasing amounts payable; to someone else. The cost of feeding our families, alone, has risen about 7.2 percent in the past twelve months. Additionally, there's a decrease in the availability of loans, therefore, NO HOMES. Medical care costs are also astronomical and increasing.

But before you begin to point the accusing finger elsewhere, remember we have been/are a community of overindulging, wasteful, extravagant spenders. Lavish living bourgoise, if you will. You know, the "I have arrived Black folks"--well, wise up! Our natural resources--gas, coal, oil, trees, minerals, etc. are diminishing at an ever increasing rate worldwide; while the population grows. The real issue for the eighties is survival. If we are interested in maintaining a comfortable lifestyle, we must develop a sense of frugality.

This practical awareness of economics will include, knowledge of how to maintain our present level of enjoyment for ourselves and our children, now and in the future. If we can attain this level of awareness, perhaps that's the silver lining behind the dark cloud of recession/inflation that now crowds our horizons.

As informed consumers, we need to initiate conservation techniques, ie., save, cutback, prioritize, etc. The Earth is not replenishing it's natural resources as fast as we are consuming them. It is our duty to become practicing conservative, knowledgeable, responsible consumers. What are the available tools for survival? They include the following: (1) Read--current trends/events relating to economics, (2) curtail credit spending (3) Initiate saving and/or investing schemes (again read, develop reliable resources regarding this subject) (4) develop consumer awareness--read this reporter's weekly column.

This column will be written by and for the community. I plan to interview several community members weekly and present their views of the specified topics (see below) and how they have dealt with that particular aspect of our lifestyle. Each interviewee's statements and photo will be included; hopefully this series will be one that is read and utilized by the entire community.

Well here's to ya, and your snoopin' reporter will be seeking out concerned citizens that have tips for saving and surviving. The following topics will be covered in the weeks to come.

1. How to save while having fun: Indoor and Outdoor Recreation
2. Food (dining out and eating cheaply)
3. Transportation (tripping' in Tacoma)
4. Clothes (how to dress for less)
5. Family reunions and get togethers
6. Real estate (home sweet home)
7. Community feedback and the summer rap-up.

A Washington resident (veteran) who has demonstrated outstanding community achievement at the local or state level will be selected by the department to receive the award. Nominations may be made on the basis of achievements or contributions in any of the following areas:

Box 9778, Olympia, Washington 98504. Nominations should be mailed so as to arrive at the Department no later than August 18, 1980.

V. Edwards'

Journal

Mrs. Edwards is away on holiday. Social events on the summer scene will be covered by a variety of correspondents.

The Shiloh Baptist Church in conjunction with the Miss Washington Scholarship Pageant will host a reception on Sunday, July 13, 1980 from 1:00 - 2:30 p.m., honoring the newly crowned "Miss Washington," Doris Janell Hayes. You are invited to come and congratulate Doris. Shiloh is located at 1211 South I St., Tacoma, Washington. Rev. E.S. Brazill pastor.

The masons and various other Black community groups including the Black Collective sponsored a traditional July 4 cook-out and picnic at Holiday Park on McChord AFB. The food flowed as the masons provided 300 lbs of chicken, 50 lbs of hot dogs, 60 lbs of hamburgers and 110 lbs of ribs. These gracious gentlemen not only cooked the meat to perfection, but provided delicious bar-b-qued beans and macroni salad to complement the main course. There was plenty of soda pop and beer to wash it all down. Needless to say, a fine time was had by all.

The inimitable Ms. Lena Horne demonstrated her still superb artistic and physical

Virginia Taylor's Outside Looking In

"Lifting as we climb," is the motto of the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs Inc. Clara Cox, Washington State, president and also president of our Tacoma Chapter will be attending the National Convention in Washington D.C., July 26 - Aug. 1, 1980. Also attending will be Helen Tucker, State Arts and Crafts chairperson. I mention this because the City Association of Colored Women's Clubhouse is a focal point for a lot of activities that are happening in the Black community. The Black Collective meets there every Saturday morning at 8:00 a.m. Receptions, weddings, dances, workshops, flower shows, musical recitals, prayer meetings, you name it, It has happened or will happen at the Colored Women's Clubhouse. They, all of clubs, are supportive of activities in the Black community. Good luck Clara and Helen.

The picnic was a success--the Masons and the Black Collective put on the dog, the pig, the cow, the salad and the beans. The program was short and to the point. Allen Correll, speaking for the NAACP, said something that stuck--"less than 25 years ago our people were having walk-ins, sit-ins, kneel-ins, and pray-ins--dogs were biting them, snipers shooting at them--all because people wanted the right to VOTE. Now here we are today, begging, yes, begging people to exercise that right to vote.." That brought home a lot of thoughts from the past. We have youngsters eligible to vote now that weren't even born 25 years ago. Maybe it would be a good thing if families started having a family history day once a week, and start back to telling the old stories from the past. You know the ones--the "remember when, uncle so and so did such and such. Or when grandmother was living down in Tubuloo, etc. The stories we who are older than 20 years used to get so tired of hearing. Somehow our learned Black historians are missing the ones who need to know their history and the real struggles that aren't or weren't printed.

Members of the Northwest Women's Law Center made a presentation to the Black Women's Caucus, Tacoma Chapter. The center provides free legal representation in carefully selected cases that promise to have an impact on the lives and legal rights of large numbers of women. Take note if you feel discriminated against: 4224 University Way N.E. Seattle, 98105 (206) 632-8468. Two Tacomans are on the board of directors--Judie Fortier and Wilda Heard.

The Dept of Health and Human Resources are trying to establish a list of organizations from which Black employees may be recruited. They cite the hiring of Blacks has been limited in the past, due, in part, to an inability to locate qualified applicants (where have I heard that before). They are asking for help--contact Willie Jackson--(206) 442-4256.

Aren't you a little curious about the Port of Tacoma even contemplating hiring Port Commissioner Bob Early as assistant general manager if Mossman leaves to join Roy Perky in LA. It seems to be the good ole boy system alive and working. This is the same commissioner who refused to meet with the Black community a few years ago. I never forget--if no one else is concerned--I am!

Robin Johnson was elected as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention. Tommy Hilyard is an alternate. They will be representing the Blacks from the 6th Congressional District. We, the Black community will be giving them a send off--more on that next week.

A welcome to Lolita Johnson from Sacramento, she's a friend of Phil Miner since the 7th grade. Also, it was good to see Barbara Brown, the daughter of Carl and Irene, visiting from Alexandria, Va. She works for the Dept. of Energy in D.C.--good to have visitors stop in at the Saturday morning collective.

The Facts would like to have any comments on the first draft of the home rule charter for Pierce County. A copy of the draft is available at the Facts office and at your local library. Read it--we will be asked to vote on it!

ALIVE - Advocating for Low Income Voters Everywhere, is sponsoring a community potluck on Tuesday, July 15th at Wright Park at 10:30 a.m. Candidates will be there to listen to the poor--or advocates for the poor. In case of rain--same time at Central School--call: 627-8178, for info.

The Black Women's Caucus, Tacoma Branch, have elected new officers. Natalie Leath, president, Lillian Jasper, V.P., Marie Keyes, treasurer, Verdell Pierce, secretary and Royce Brown, chairperson of the nominating committee--good luck.

Hope you have been watching NAACP National Convention hi-lites on channel 9. The "young turks" are on the move--very interesting--also, speaking of T.V.--Tony Brown's Journal 4:30 ch-5, on Sunday. See you next week.

Black pioneers celebrate in Roslyn

The relatives of the early Roslyn, Washington Black pioneers are planning the 91th year aniversary celebration of the Black migration to the northwest.

Sometime in late spring or early summer, 1888, two trainloads of Black men arrived to work in Roslyn, Washington coal mines. A few months later, on September 30, 1888, a third train arrived bringing their wives and some more Black men.

We will hold the celebration Saturday, August 2, 1980, beginning at 9:00 a.m. at the pioneer park, the former Roslyn ball park, Roslyn, Washington. Roslyn is 80 miles east of Seattle, and 56 miles west of Yakima. August 4th is the day most of the Black pioneers here observed as Black Emancipation Day.

Last year, we had a big turnout of over 350 people. This year, let's TOP that number. Everyone had a good time, renewing old acquaintances, reminiscing, looking and laughing at old photographs and how we have changed over the years; playing baseball, tennis, eating, drinking, and making merry; and making new friends.

We are requesting everyone (who will) to please bring food and beverages as this will be a smorgasbord/potluck picnic.

Everybody is welcome.
